

Call for Papers

27th Annual Conference of the Medieval Association of the Midwest

Sacred World

Secular World

“Sacred World, Secular World”

September 30 – October 1, 2011
St. Norbert College, De Pere, Wisconsin

The Medieval Association of the Midwest welcomes paper and panel proposals that address the above theme or any aspect of the Middle Ages. In keeping with MAM’s philosophy of inclusiveness, we encourage the submission of proposals from all branches of medieval studies, including but not limited to archaeology, art, bibliography, history, language, literature, music, philosophy, religion, and science. Presentations on medievalism are also welcome.

Proposals/abstracts for individual papers of no more than 20 minutes should be approximately 250 words long and should include the presenter’s contact information and any requests for necessary A/V equipment. Offers to serve as a panel moderator are also appreciated. Proposals for full panels should contain no more three papers and one session moderator, as well as the titles of all the individual papers, contact information for each presenter, and the organizer’s contact information.

Presenters may feel welcome to submit papers for consideration for Enarratio, the organization’s journal.

Plenary Speakers:

Dr. Barbara Newman, Professor of English, Northwestern University: “A Lawsuit in Heaven: The Dispute Between God and His Mother”

Dr. David Johnson, Professor of English, Florida State University: “Translation, Adaptation, and Invention: King Arthur in the Medieval Low Countries”

Green Bay International Airport is ten minutes from the College. Lodging will be available at the comfortable Kress Inn, directly across the street from the College.

For information or to submit proposals please contact Professor Edward Ridsen, English, St. Norbert College, 100 Grant St., De Pere, WI 54115; edward.ridsen@snc.edu; 920-403-3938.

Program co-sponsored by the Center for Norbertine Studies.
